How do you ensure your workplace is inclusive for everyone, including those of minority religious faiths and/or those who want to bring their religious devotion to work? What about people whose religions require them to wear certain clothing or not cut their hair? Learn from Ford Motor Co., No. 28 on The 2009 DiversityInc Top 50 Companies for Diversity® list, and the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

Allison Trawick, global manager, office of diversity and inclusion at Ford Motor Co., will discuss corporate best practices in creating an inclusive religious employee-resource group, and Dianna Johnston, assistant legal counsel at the EEOC, will tell you what's legal—and what will result in litigation. DiversityInc will share national trends and what the DiversityInc Top 50 do for religious accommodations, holidays and inclusive corporate cultures.
